Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist:

“The Holy Eucharist is the Sacrament which contains the body and blood, soul and divinity, of our Lord Jesus Christ under the appearances of bread and wine.” It is called: 1) Eucharist, because it is an action of thanksgiving to God. 2) The Lord’s Supper, because of its connection with the supper which the Lord took with his disciples on the eve of his Passion and because it anticipates the wedding feast of the Lamb in the heavenly Jerusalem. 3) The Breaking of Bread, because Jesus used this rite, part of a Jewish meal, when as master of the table he blessed and distributed the bread, above all at the Last Supper. 4) The Eucharistic assembly (synaxis), because the Eucharist is celebrated amid the assembly of the faithful, the visible expression of the Church. 5) The memorial of the Lord’s Passion and Resurrection. 6) The Holy Sacrifice, because it makes present the one sacrifice of Christ the Savior and includes the Church’s offering. 7) The Holy and Divine Liturgy, because the Church’s whole liturgy finds its center and most intense expression in the celebration of this sacrament; in the same sense we also call its celebration the Sacred Mysteries. 8) Most Blessed Sacrament because it is the Sacrament of sacraments. 9) Holy Communion, because by this sacrament we unite ourselves to Christ, who makes us sharers in his Body and Blood to form a single body. 10) Holy Mass (Missa), because the liturgy in which the mystery of salvation is accomplished concludes with the sending forth (missio) of the faithful, so that they may fulfill God’s will in their daily lives.

The Real Presence.

The Mass and Holy Communion derive all their meaning from the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. Eucharistic theologians explain the real presence of Jesus in the consecrated host and wine by a process called “transubstantiation.” This means that the substance of the consecrated bread and wine is changed to Jesus’ glorified body and blood by the action of the Holy Spirit and its accidents like color, shape, taste, etc., remain the same. As a result, the Body and Blood of the risen Christ together with the soul and divinity of Christ, and, therefore, the whole Christ, is truly, really, and substantially contained in the sacrament of the most Holy Eucharist. Here is the summary of the teaching of the Council of Trent on the Eucharist. In the venerable sacrament of the Eucharist, the whole Christ is contained under each species, and under each and every portion of either species when it is divided up. After the consecration, the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ are present in the marvelous sacrament of the Eucharist. They are present not only in the use of the sacrament while it is being received, but also before and after. Consequently, the true Body and Blood of the Lord remain in the consecrated hosts or particles that are kept or left over after Communion. Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, is to be adored in the holy sacrament of the Eucharist with the worship due to God and including external worship. The Blessed Sacrament is therefore to be honored with extraordinary festive celebrations, solemnly carried from place to place in processions, and is to be publicly exposed for the people’s adoration. The Holy Eucharist is to be kept in a sacred place.
